

Appreciation of our students' personalities answers our purpose

Our state-approved and officially recognized Economics and Social Science School with an economic science profile and a lingual branch has a German and a bilingual track.

We are an all-day school which offers a rhythmic daily routine, one that alternates between classroom instruction, independent studying and creative activities (AGs, elective courses). We focus on holistic personality development of our students through our comprehensive range of additional activities in the creative, sport, and musical arenas.

Since 2013 we have offered our special bilingual track (German-English) for students who are fluent in German and English. Several courses are conducted in English. The role of the educational assistant is filled by the English language assistant who accompanies the students in core subjects, study periods (when students do their homework) and during lunch recess.

As a private school we rely on our proven pedagogical principles of individual support of each student in a friendly and caring atmosphere. Our approach is enhanced by classes which are as small as possible and by the open campus character of our institute. An educational assistant supporting the class teacher accompanies our students in core subjects and study periods from grade 5 through 9. Aside from individual tuition, our students can obtain a professional degree in the fields of economics and multimedia with our extracurricular ABiplus® program. Our school is located in the green, lovely residential area of Obermenzing only ten minutes by train from central station.

We support lateral thinkers

Even in a normed school system, a school should offer solutions which support the individual personality development of each student. School education means more for us than simply imparting knowledge. To the same extent we make a point of encouraging our students to become versatile and open-minded personalities characterized by the courage to stand up for their beliefs, tolerance, fairness, consideration, and sportsmanship. We encourage social and political commitment as well as cultural education and a European consciousness.

Bilingual learning right from the start

Obermenzinger Gymnasium is one of the few state-approved and officially recognized schools in Munich offering several subjects in English from the beginning of grade 5, leading to the Bavarian “Abitur”, and encouraging and deepening the German language at the same time.

Our open, campus-like premises in green Obermenzing encourages communication between students and pedagogues and provides for a friendly and hospitable environment.

“It is our aim to motivate students to develop ideas that go further than what is taught in school, to encourage abilities and to invigorate the individual. We want to contribute to a successful start of a happy life.”

Values for life

Obermenzinger Gymnasium is part of Münchner Schulstiftung, along with Lumberjack Waldkindergarten, Jan Amos Comenius Kinderhaus, Jan Amos Comenius Grundschule and Privatgymnasium Dr. Florian Überreiter.

The foundation was founded in 2005 and pursues noncommercial purposes. Like all other institutes of the foundation, Obermenzinger Gymnasium’s aim is to offer young people a place where they can mature into self-confident and responsible personalities. Children and youngsters are supposed to feel comfortable at their places, child care workers and teachers should like what they do and be committed and dedicated to their jobs. There is an opportunity of joining Obermenzinger Gymnasium during the current semester.

“Students are supposed to feel comfortable at our place. As a small all-day school we enjoy a friendly and family-like atmosphere. The holistic personality development of our students really matters to us. Therefore we offer individual and additional tutition. Supplemental offers in the fields of sports, music, art, and various projects top off every-day life in our school.”
